

Luella Toni Lewis, M.D.

Speaker at PQC Summit on Cost and Quality:

Confronting the Chronic Care Challenge

Washington, D.C. • March 19, 2008

Dr. Lewis received her B.A. in Sociology from Georgetown University and her M.D. from Georgetown University School of Medicine in Washington DC. She completed her residency training in Family Practice In Jamaica (Queens), NY at the New York Medical College/Brooklyn-Queens program. While in residency she served as Chief Resident and received awards including the L.I.S.Z. Foundation award “presented to resident during senior year who has demonstrated the highest achievement in the principles and practices of community medicine, embodying the qualities of compassion, sensitivity, dedication and leadership that characterize the Family Practice Physician”

She is currently a Geriatrics Fellow in Jamaica, NY. During her residency and continuing to fellowship, Dr. Lewis has been involved in fighting for resident rights and improved patient care. She has served with the Committee of Interns and Residents/SEIU Healthcare since the beginning of her training as a member, department representative, delegate, New York Regional Vice President, Executive Vice President, and currently as President. Dr. Lewis has had the opportunity to speak in various forums regarding patient and resident issues.